

Detective Lieutenant Robert Moccasin

The Lieutenant in charge of the detective division supervises the entire detective division, the evidence room, and the lab area. In addition, the Lieutenant plans, organizes and directs any special operations within the division. The Lieutenant provides division related training sessions and other relevant information to departmental employees, other law enforcement agencies, and citizens from the community as needed. On a daily basis, the Lieutenant assigns casework to detectives from the division and reviews written reports and other written documentation.

The Detective Lieutenant also serves as a department representative on many committees and panels: ISP (Intensive Supervision Program) and the Pre-Release panel.
